

VILLAGE OF ROSEMONT

Dear Attendees of the Society for Technical Communication Summit:

I know I speak for everyone who lives and works in the Village of Rosemont, Illinois, when I say that we are looking forward to welcoming all of you who are attending STC's 2012 Technical Communication Summit, this coming May 20-23, at the Hyatt Regency O'Hare Hotel, in Rosemont.

The Hyatt is an expansive and beautiful property whose staff has deep experience in hosting conferences such as yours, and you are sure to enjoy its excellent service. In addition, the Village of Rosemont provides a rich spectrum of nearby sports, music and family entertainment, and excellent fine dining.

With a population of 4,202, the Village of Rosemont welcomes at least 50,000 visitors per day. We are consummate experts at delivering successful tradeshow, convention, meeting and family entertainment products and services to our guests. Part of that expertise lies within our municipal services, including public safety and security. Our cross-trained (police and fire) professional staff and our auxiliary officers comprise one of the best and most progressive public safety departments in the nation, ensuring safe, secure and efficient movement of crowds and traffic. In fact, our public safety organization and services are often referred to as the standard of excellence.

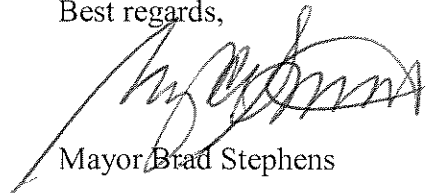

It has been brought to our attention that some of you may be concerned about safety during your Summit, the timing of which coincides with the G8 and NATO Summits being held in downtown Chicago. Our village officials want to assure you that, in addition to Rosemont's superior level of public safety within the village, we routinely coordinate with the Chicago Police Department and all local and federal safety and security agencies to plan and ensure the finest service possible at Chicago O'Hare International Airport, and throughout the metropolitan area of Chicago. The result of this close cooperation is that, for 56 years, Rosemont has welcomed the world, providing a safe and secure visitor experience.

We look forward to welcoming you in person. We know you will enjoy your stay.
